How do Video Games affect the mind

Subject: How do video games affect the human mind?

Variables: Amount of time spent playing, personality, types of games, sudden separation from games.

Dependent Variables: Games effect on personality, growing or dying addiction, care for things other than video games..

Environment: Home or personal computer. (Laptop, Desktop.)

Program: NetLogo

Model: We will be using a Vertices based graph depending on the amount of variables we end up with. Then we will make a test subject with a random personality and use a terraforming spike ball thing you see on certain charts to track progress. We will record each chart and plug it into a final model that is currently undetermined.

After doing extensive research we will approach the project with the mindset of a first time researcher on the subject and test every possibility.
